

1969 MODEL KIT CATALOG

THE REVELL STORY

Each product presented to you in these pages is a distinctive chapter in the continuing story of Revell. In the early '50s, Revell introduced the world's first scale model plastic car kits. They brought the bright concept of practical convenience and availability to the age-old adventure of model building. A new industry was born — and a new hobby discovered by millions.

Those early car kits blazed the trail for the great variety of Revell models available today of man's most spectacular vehicular achievements on earth, sea and sky and beyond his world. Currently, Revell manufactures more than 300 different items and in its 27 year history has produced more than 210,000,000 units. Revell products are manufactured in eight countries including the United States and sold in more than eighty. Our headquarters is located in Venice, Calif., on a 10½ acre site and employs over 500 people.

Though a Revell kit can be purchased in a hobby, chain or department store for only $1.00 to $15.00, the master mold for the model costs between $50,000 and $100,000. Every proposed kit requires research and development, planning, engineering, manufacturing, packaging, advertising and marketing. Its selection must be exacting.

Just what does it take to manufacture a model kit? The way it happens at Revell goes something like this . . . you, the consumer, many times write in with suggestions as to what model kits you would like us to make. These suggestions are passed along to our Research and Development Department. They evaluate these suggestions and make recommendations to the Revell management team. If the management team approves the project, they forward the recommendation along to the Revell engineering staff. An engineer is then assigned to the project and will be responsible for designing this model in such a way so that it will be economical to manufacture and practical to assemble.

From detailed engineering specifications, a hand-built original model must be created. From this original model, plaster and epoxy molds are made. These molds are then used as patterns for the steel tools and dies which are cut on pantograph machines. Finally, the steel dies are hand finished, placed in a mold base, and installed in an injection molding machine. This machine can turn out a kit in thirty seconds that has been in the research, development and engineering stage for almost a year.
